

2nd and 3rd Grade Boys & Girls ISRA Coach Pitch Rosters and Schedules 2017

Team 1 - Safety Orange

Coaches: Ken Karolus

Assistant Coach: Joy Kurki, Mark Fredy, Barb Woyak

Coaches you will be responsible for getting your equipment ready as well as putting it away, the shed will be open and at the end of the night if your team is the last one on the field please make sure the shed is locked and closed.

I did not divide teams up this year as our numbers are low. I figured you can practice as a whole team and scrimmage by mixing the players up each week. ISRA has purchased a pitching machine this year that you may use. Please see me (Kori) on how to change it from SB to BB. Also a good drill/game to play is Work-Up (see description on last page).

Work up is pretty easy to understand. You or one of your coaching assistance will be the pitcher. The players on the team fill all the other positions. So you will have eight defensive players on the field, and the rest are hitters. If you have more than twelve players, eight fielders and four batters, you could use four outfielders. Four outfielders will make it tougher on the batters, which is not a bad thing. It helps to keep the game moving along. Once the defense is set up, you begin pitching to the batters. There is no score kept. All other baseball rules are followed.

After a Player Bats

If a batter makes an out, then he gets his glove and moves to right field. All the defensive players move up (work up) one position. If the batter gets on base, he continues to run, if you have enough batters. This is one of the baseball practice plans where you will need most of the players on your team.

Players will learn what to do when playing a position they don't normally play. Like I said before, this is a teaching drill also.

Here is the rotation, right field to center, center to left, left to third base, third base to shortstop, short to second, second to first, and first base to batter. If you are using one of your players as catcher, then rotate them to batter about every fifth move. You don't want to waste time changing catchers every rotation. And you can keep track of outs if you like. The bases would be cleared after every third out.

A double play results in both batters going to the field and the defense makes two moves.

Keep This Drill Moving Along

The success of all baseball practice plans is to keep the action moving along. Don't let players walk from position to position. There needs to be a lot of hustle. Try to keep the players on their toes.

And this drill does allow you to look at different players at different positions. The boys think of this as a game rather than a practice drill and you get to see players in different situations. That is a big plus; kids like the drill and it will help you in coaching baseball.
